

Victor Rosado

(765) 639-5875

VMRosado@student.fullsail.edu

Indianapolis, IN

Script Doctor: Writer passionate about suspense and drama. Specializes in story structures that focuses on interpersonal relationships and personal growth. Available for contract and full-time remote or hybrid positions.

Skills and Applications:

Final Draft, Microsoft Word, Narrative writing, active listening, active learning and learning strategies, editing, proofreading, collaboration, team communication, time management, resilience, stress tolerance and flexibility, reasoning, problem solving, and ideation, emotional intelligence

Education:

Full Sail University, Media Communications, Creative Writing concentration, BFA, expected graduation October 2025.

Experience:

Writing Workshop I: Film (Credit Hours - 4.0) - February 2025

Familiarized with Final Draft and applied principles of character development, plot construction and script format. Critiqued and revised scripts.

Multimedia Storytelling (Credit Hours - 3.0) - January 2025

Focused on visual storytelling to communicate moods, emotions, ideas, sounds, and scenery through props. Writing dialogue that reveals aspects of characters while moving the story along.

Creative Skills Development (Credit Hours - 4.0) - November 2024

Developed skills to overcome writer's block. Use the world around you to for inspiration and to spark and maintain your creative flow.

Literary Techniques and Story Development (Credit Hours - 4) - October 2024

Develop proficiency with literary devices and conventions to help craft the most interesting narrative possible. Focused on structure, perspective, and linear/nonlinear storytelling. Build critical skills and critique creative work.